Sentence Of Ida Brown To Fall Today

Two Juries Convict Woman Who Blinded Her Husband With Boiling Lye

Mrs. Ida Brown of San Gabriel Court will come before Judge Bowron in the Superior court today for sentence following her conviction by two juries before which she was charged with having blinded her husband, Luis Brown, with boiling lye while he slept. The offense for which she stands convicted is punishable by imprisonment of from one to 14 years in San Quentin.

The first jury, before which she was tried on her plea of not guilty, passed only upon her guilt or innocence and reached its verdict of guilty in 24 minutes after leaving the jury box. The second jury heard evidence on her plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity." It deliberated somewhat longer before reaching an agreement that Mrs. Brown is sane and was in her right mind and responsible for her act at the time of its commission.

The first trial, which lasted for several days, was concluded on Tuesday and the second case in which the woman's sanity was at issue, began immediately. Both were replete with dramatic incidents.

In the first trial both Mr. and Mrs. Brown as well as two of their grown children testified. The facts in the case were not contested and the testimony consisted almost wholly of a recital of the facts in connection with the attack. It was obvious that the defense would make its stand on the insanity plea, though in the first trial it attempted to introduce, even from the mouth of the blind man, evidence tending to show that he quarreled with, taunted and abused a highly nervous woman until she lost her reason and was not mentally responsible at the time of the crime.

The climax of the first trial which was on a plea of not guilty was reached when Luis Brown himself, blinded eyes hidden behind dark glasses, tapped his way to the witness stand with the aid of a cane, and testified in his wife's defense. He was supported on either side by his children, Reuben Brown, 21, and Mary, 19. His wife sat, as she did throughout the court proceedings, weeping. She fainted before he began his testimony. Brown said to the jury:

"We were always quarrelling over other women. I know I drove my wife crazy." The court ruled this statement be disregarded by the jury and stricken from the record.

In the early stages of the first trial Mrs. Brown attempted to show that she was driven to her act by abuse and cruelty on the part of her husband. She stated

HORSEMEN TIE UP STEEDS AS IN DAYS OF OLD AND NEW CLUB HAS ITS HAM AND EGGS

In the absence of hitching posts, 40 horses were tied up to trees in Bailey Canyon Park on Sunday morning while more than 50 members and guests of the Foothill Horse and Breakfast Club sat down to their first platter of ham and eggs. And then they carried their mounts off on the club's first canter over nearby roads and mountain trails for which Sierra Madre is noted.

Dr. Frank Wilson, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced Judge Wilbur Thayer who spoke of the great possibilities of the club. "The idea of the horse trails," he said, "is a good one. Such trails will be of scenic benefit to the town by adding to its background and attractiveness and will naturally increase the value of real estate."

Eventually, he said, there would be horse trails in the foothills between here and Monrovia on the east and Altadena on the west, and that a club membership of from 200 to 300 was not

Youth Pays First Fine For Following The Fire Fighters

Kenneth Croan worked off his youthful energy on Tuesday with piece of chamois skin and a pail of brass polish as a penalty for being too curious about the brush fire near the city pumping station a few days ago. Kenneth got a ticket from Chief Gordon MacMillan because he followed the big fire truck too closely on its way to the fire. Judge Tom Neale fined him $3, then allowed him to pay it off by slicking up the fire equipment in his off-time after school hours.

"Maybe after this," the Judge said, "you won't be so anxious to see what a fire truck looks like up close."

This was the first sentence imposed under the local ordinance forbidding cars from following fire trucks at a distance of less than one block.

Ascension Vestrymen Are Elected

Encouraging Reports Heard At Annual Meeting Of Episcopal Church

The annual meeting of the members of the Church of the Ascension was held Tuesday evening, preceded by a supper at which 80 persons were present. On the motion of Mrs. Jessica Wright, seconded by Miss Vanier, the vestrymen of the Church were unanimously re-elected; Messrs. Jedney Davis, Samuel L. Graham, James N. Hawks, Thomas Meader, J. H. Robertson and C. F. Vannier.

The financial report of Miss Lydia Webster, treasurer, showed a balance in hand after the year's expenses had been paid, and was received with acclamation. Mr. Meader gave the auditor's report.

The various organizations of the Parish gave accounts of good work done during the year. Mrs. T. H. Flather reporting over $600 for the Women's Guild and Auxiliary, and Miss Jean Woodward $229 for the Order of St. Catherine, for Church and charity.

Mrs. J. N. Hawks spoke for the Altar Guild, and Dean Bode spoke of Mrs. Edith Floyd's work for the side altar. Benny Lyon reported for the Sunday School.

Dean Bode praised the work of the choir, the services, and the teachers, and mentioned the planting of flowers and shrubs around the Church by Mrs. Josie Price.

Mrs. M. D. Welsher was in charge of the splendid supper. The whole meeting left a feeling of thankfulness and encouragement after a very successful year.

Cypress Court Will Be Re-Subdivided

Approval was given by the City Council Wednesday night to a proposition favorably passed upon by the Planning Commission whereby the Cypress Court property of Mrs. Otis Lockhart on Sturtevant Road will revert to its original acreage status. Mrs. Lockhart requested that this move be made that the property could be subdivided in a better manner.

Another petition approved by the Planning Commission, by which N. A. Carr expects to build a service and gasoline station on the north-west corner of Central and Lima avenues didn't reach enough for consideration.

HEAD OF PASSIONISTS JOINS RETREATANTS

Week-end Retreatants at Monte Oliva Monastery

Seventeen Sierra Madreans were among the more than 30 persons to attend a retreat at the Passionist Monastery on Monte Oliva over the week-end conducted by Rev. Father Isidore Dwyer. Arranged especially for residents of the San Gabriel Valley, it was pronounced one of the most successful of the many retreats held at the monastery since its dedication last spring and Rev. Father Eugene Cregan, of Chicago, head of the Passionist order in the Western province was a pleased and interested observer, the Provincial being a visitor at the institution.

Among the retreatants who entered the convent on Friday, sun down were Catholics and non-Catholics, residents of Washington and various towns of the San Gabriel Valley. Those from this city were W. J. Schiltz, contractor who built the monastery; Thomas Quigley, Oswald A. and J. J. Bergien, Anthony Goodier, Lewis Bartel, A. R. Bridgeland, G. C. Maxam, Patrick Ronan, Frank Turba, Myron Wernicke,

H. W. Dufner, J. P. Forbes, Joseph Renter, D. E. Maloney and Al S. Myers.

From El Monte came Mayo Thomas J. Caffery, Leon Faltzer, and J. M. and M. A. Malenrich, visitors from Enunelaw, Washington. Other valley retreatants were William Wilkinson, William and Emmet Beck, from Pomona; Owen Callahan, Monrovia; J. B. Schroder, Whittier; and from Los Angeles there were V. Parnick, Frank M. Bering, Earnest Spraul, Edmund Jordan and A. D. Arent.

Chaos Ahead Unless Jobs Are Provided

Physicologist Tells Kiwanis Technocracy Won't Remedy Present Ills

"Unless the volume of work in the United States increases at least 10 per cent within the next 12 months, there will be an upheaval of some sort." That was one of the interesting observations made by C. E. Sydnor, professor of psychology at the Pasadena Junior College, who was guest speaker at the Kiwanis noon luncheon on Tuesday.

Prof. Sydnor chose as the subject of his address psychology as it applies to the business and economic structures of our society. He outlined first the various types of intelligences, which include the abstract intelligence such as is possessed in a high degree by the mathematician, the mechanic, and the social intelligence of the minister and teacher.

Touching on the doctrine of technocracy, Professor Sydnor said that he saw little in it to gain hope for the future. He said he thought the solution of the present day problem lay in getting jobs for everyone in the field they were best suited to enter, to provide work to offset the general unrest he had observed throughout the Nation.

"Intelligence," said the Professor, "is not the cramming in of knowledge, but rather the ability to act at the right time in the right way." He said that some of us are lacking work not of the right calibre to make for success, and that many times a change of environment may produce results. Personality, he stated, acting upon situation, or environment, results in what we term character.

In answer to questions put to him by club members, the speaker gave as his opinion that the individual's intelligence quota is more or less a fixed sum, not changed by the years, and only supplemented by additional knowledge and experience. He disputed the fact that drudgery in occupation results in lowered intelligence, or dullness, if the individual wills otherwise, and has it inherent in himself to progress.

Facts were given concerning the system the schools have for determining the fitness of students for different branches of work. It is obviously wrong, Prof. Sydnor said, for parents to insist on a youngster becoming a lawyer when his qualifications make it certain that he will fail in such a pursuit. Every person, he believes, has just so much in him, and nothing more is added by education and book learning although such an education develops and brings forth natural ability.

"Qualities such as courage, honesty, et cetera, are largely a matter of training and environment," Prof. Sydnor said.

The speaker was introduced by William Middough. At the conclusion of the talk President W. J. Lawless announced that next week the Kiwanis Club here would join with the rest of the clubs of the country in celebrating the Kiwanis organization's 15th birthday, which comes on January 21. Educational features will be the highlights of the meetings in the near future, Mr. Lawless stated.

Disputed Title To A $35,000 Property Here Now In Court

The suit by which Mrs. Barbara Haug and her son, Humbert Haug, of this city, seek to recover $35,000 worth of property from Mrs. Carrie A. Fairbanks of 602 Mariposa street, started Monday in a Los Angeles Court, and was continued until next Wednesday.

Declaring that the Haug's charge that she secured the property, which now is the site of Leonard Borman's studio on West Central avenue, through fraud in 1929 to be utterly false, Mrs. Fairbanks states that she secured the land from Haug at a fair price and that she now possesses the deed which proves her right. Her ownership resulted from a settlement of claims she held against the Haugs for $17,000.

Both Mrs. Haug and her son allege that the property was deeded to Mrs. Fairbanks on condition she sell it to the best advantage possible and reimburse them. They now demand that it be set aside in trust for them.

Change In Missionary Plan Urged

Radical Departures In System Outlined By Rev. Mr. Pritchard's Address

"Missionaries who can fulfill the religious needs of Asia are needed rather than men who try to perpetuate the differences and institutions of a Western Church on an Eastern soil," said Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard in his report on missionary work which he presented at the Congregational Church on Wednesday evening.

Gathering his material from a report of the commission of inquiry into the foreign missions which has recently been published under the title "Re-Thinking Missions," Rev. Mr. Pritchard told of how the 15 laymen responsible for the report visited Japan, China, India, and Burma, and of the praise given the general character of the missionaries. However, there was the thought expressed that they were hampered by a narrow sectionalism and by an undue emphasis on the administration of organizations.

The materialism and atheism which is spreading in Asia must be met by a cooperation of all religious forces seeking together to enrich and preserve the spiritual life of man, said the speaker. In this the East needs the West, and both together can better interpret the real message of Christianity. This will mean greater care in selecting missionaries, and better preparation for those who go. It will call for consolidation of schools, the transfer of native churches into the care and support of nationals as rapidly as possible, and a more united direction from the home base.

The report even suggests, Rev. Pritchard said, that the test of a missionary's efficiency should be his standing among the natives, and that the initiative for his call to work should rest with the community which he serves. Most radical of the suggestions was that all American mission boards join in a single council of administration representing all the Protestant denominations.

Jobless Unit Extends Its Activities

Handles Huge Quantities Of Food And Clothing; Finds Work For Many

A total of 62 were furnished work in December by the local Cooperative Relief Association, the month's report shows. Of this number 53 were men and eight were women, and the employment was divided between city work, settling basin jobs and the Santa Anita construction project.

Over 6,681 pounds of food were distributed by the Association during the month of December, according to the report. This food including nearly 1000 loaves of bread, was given to 161 needy families, comprising 537 persons.

Lunches were furnished to an average of 12 men daily, and altogether 19,653 pounds of commodities were handled by the Association. As a result of the extensive work of the members there are now literally hundreds of garments, socks, sweaters, dresses, suits and other apparel at the association's headquarters which will be given out gratis to needy people, it is announced. By phoning 352-1 additional information concerning this may be secured.

The Foothill Civic Relief Association, of which the local organization is a member, is planning to incorporate to insure blanket insurance for the entire group. This will prevent damage suits being filed against individual officers and even private members, as may be done now.

Little Damage As Gale Sweeps City; One Man Injured

Sierra Madre suffered little from the desert windstorm of Tuesday night that blanketed the coastal area with a "dry fog" for 26 hours and did great damage in the territory between the Southland foothills and the sea.

In view of their experience during the previous brief storm during which three fire alarms were sounded, practically the entire fire department gathered at the City Hall on Tuesday evening ready for emergencies, but there was no call.

George Edwards, Monrovia telephone lineman, suffered a broken leg as a result of the storm here. Linemen connected with the local exchange were dispatched to other less fortunate areas where the system was almost paralyzed and Edwards was brought up from Monrovia on an emergency call on East Alameda street. The engine of the big truck he was driving stalled on a steep driveway and as Edwards cranked the truck it started to move, crushing him against a fence. That he escaped with his life seems almost a miracle.

Edwards was taken to the Sierra Madre hospital where Dr. George W. Groth set the broken bones.

Ingraham Is Badly Hurt In Collision; Condition Is Grave

In a head on automobile crash at Imperial and Paramount boulevards in Downey, W. Herbert Ingraham, cashier at the Sierra Madre Savings Bank, was seriously injured Sunday and is in critical condition at the Valley Hospital in Downey.

Ingraham suffers from a fractured skull and other general injuries that rendered him unconscious for 12 hours after the accident.

The collision, between Ingraham's car and an automobile driven by Sneldon Enders of Long Beach, resulted in Enders' heavy sedan turning over twice before finally knocking over six gasoline pumps at a service station 30 feet from the intersection.

Recovered sufficiently Tuesday to see friends from Sierra Madre who paid very short visits, Ingraham was not yet considered out of danger by Valley Hospital doctors. Enders and his wife, who was in his car with him, were less seriously injured than Ingraham.

New Leaders Of Local C.C. Take Posts

Layton Succeeds Brooks As Delegate To San Gabriel Valley Association

John Billheimer assumed the presidency of the Chamber of Commerce at that body's first business meeting of 1933, in the City Hall on Monday night, and R. C. Copenhaver continued in his position as secretary, having been re-elected to that post by the new board of directors.

Announcement was made that Lester K. Layton has been chosen to succeed Gordon R. Brooks as Sierra Madre's delegate in the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley during the year.

A letter from the 4-H Club requested that it might send a team to entertain and inform local citizens of the club activities in the hope of establishing a branch here. Sometime in February or March this request will be granted and the public, especially the young folks, will be urged to attend.

Complaint was received from Joseph P. Nash concerning the condition of the bridge over the Little Santa Anita wash on Sturtevant Drive. A committee consisting of Mrs. Jessica H. Wright, R. C. Copenhaver and P. R. Penn was appointed by Mr. Billheimer to confer with the City Council regarding the matter.

Donor Will Name Memorial Fund At Temple Beth Israel

March 1, 1933 is the final date for bids for the naming of the new Memorial Fund of the Women's Auxiliary of the Sierra Madre Temple Beth Israel. Already three offers of donations for the honor of naming this fund in memorial of a beloved who passed on have been made, according to Mrs. J. S. Weber, chairman of the committee.

Sums are being contributed by members to this fund; some in celebration of a birthday, an anniversary, a recovery from an illness, etc. The purpose of the fund is to aid in local welfare work without drawing from the general treasury.

Everyone wishing to bid for the honor of naming this fund in memorial of a friend or relative, is asked to communicate with Mrs. Weber, 352 East Alameda avenue, telephone 236-1, not later than March 1.

Bandit's Victim Avoids Paralysis

Dramatically, Officer Frank Meredith, who was shot in the spine by the bandit who held up the Sierra Madre Bank last August, was saved from hopeless paralysis by Police Surgeon Charles Sebastian's surgery, and this week he walked again, after lying four months flat on his back in the receiving hospital in Los Angeles with his life in the balance.

MEETING TONIGHT TO DECIDE FUTURE OF PUBLIC FORUM HERE

Mrs. John H. Robertson of 371 North Adams street, has called a meeting for this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Park House for an open discussion of the future of the Sierra Madre Forum. All persons in the community interested in the Forum, which has been held in past years, are urged to be present.

Skill Takes Gold's Place In New Plan

Proposed Change In Monetary System Takes A Rap At Theory Of Technocrats

The plan of a new money system whereby the human equation of skill, rather than machine or gold, would be the standard for currency, was presented to a group of Sierra Madre and Pasadena unemployed at the Municipal Light auditorium in Pasadena Tuesday night by Deane B. Caldwell, economic engineer now carrying on research at the California Institute of Technology.

Under Caldwell's system, which would theoretically be put into effect by the mere passage of a "Skill-Money Bill" by Congress, the average skill of a 25-year old man would be the basis for $1 per hour. Wages would be fixed by the skill of the individual as it fluctuated above or below the standard.

One dollar, then, would be a paper certificate issued by the government representing an hour's work, on the average. Under the system, if a machine turned out a pair of shoes in an hour, the average man could buy a pair of shoes with the money gained in the same work time. Arrangements of government loans, with certified earning capacity as sole security and a low interest rate, also is claimed to be an actuality under the provisions of the bill.

Members of the Sierra Madre Cooperative Relief Association were guests of the Pasadena unemployed and about twenty people from here attended.

Miss Vannier Is Chairman Of Red Cross

Unanimous Choice Of Directors As Resignation Of W R Humphries Accepted

Miss Marion Vannier was elected to succeed W. R. Humphries as chairman of the Sierra Madre chapter of the Red Cross at a meeting of the Board of Directors on Friday. The position of executive secretary during 1933 will be filled by Miss Louise Judson, and Mrs. C. W. Bowen is the new vice-chairman.

In accepting the regrets of the organization on his resignation, Mr. Humphries said, "My association with the directors of this chapter has been pleasant and harmonious. At this time I wish to extend my appreciation for their cooperation and to place on record the fact that Sierra Madre has for the last 18 years proved herself to be a 100 percent Red Cross community."

A gold lapel button was presented to Mr. Humphries for his five years of service in the position of chairman here. The pin is inscribed with the dates 1927-1932, covering the period during which he served as president, and the presentation was made by Mrs. M. D. Welsher.

Miss Vannier is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore and has held many administrative nursing positions in the past including a post on the teaching staff of the Pasadena Hospital at the time of the San Francisco earthquake. She has been retired from active duties for several years, having come to Sierra Madre to retire. Her past activities include service as Dean of the School of Nursing at the University of Minnesota.

Mr. Humphries stated that in the five roll calls that he has conducted this city has exceeded her quota in four instances on the basis of 5500 population. At present, he reported, the money and pledges on hand amount to about $1000. During December $72 was expended for milk for needy families.

Red Cross supplies from Government stores and National headquarters are arriving daily, and the chapter now has either in stock or on the road a carload of flour, 265 sweaters, and an assortment of overalls and underclothing. A monthly demand for $200 to carry on relief work makes it necessary for a constant drive for funds. Mr. Humphries stressed. Announcement was also made that a supply of sick-room necessities and medical supplies is on hand for those unable to purchase such articles.

Mr. Humphries will continue as a member of the board of directors of the chapter.

Former Manager Of Great Ranch Here Dies In Pasadena

Harley F. Newell, who managed the Hastings Ranch here more than 30 years ago, died in his Pasadena home Sunday morning following a stroke of apoplexy he had suffered during the night.

Leaving Sierra Madre in 1898, after several years of ranch management, Mr. Newell returned to Pasadena, where he had first settled in 1887, and went into politics. He was in turn deputy constable, constable, and city commissioner there until he went into the real estate business in 1917.

Mr. Newell was born in Lawrenceville, Ill., on November 15, 1862, and worked as a "bound boy" on a farm near his birthplace until he was 21 years of age. He then started out with a horse, bridge, saddle and a suit of clothing which he had gained for his labors up to that time. Four years later he came west.

PICKPOCKET GOES THROUGH PURSE OF SIERRA MADRE WOMAN

While aboard an Oak Knoll street car, taking young Engle DeFew to a Los Angeles hospital for treatment, Mrs. R. D. Armstrong of 885 East Grand View avenue, says she was robbed of $16 in cash, a $5 money-order, a pass book on the local bank and a treasured Rosary.

Somewhere between Colorado and Fair Oaks, where she and the boy got on the car, and the Los Angeles depot, a purse snatcher opened Mrs. Armstrong's handbag, she says, and took the small inner purse that contained practically all the money she possessed. The bank book contained the name of Mrs. Armstrong's father, Adolph Ellison.

NUTRITION EXPERT TO ADDRESS THE P.T.A.

A health and nutrition program will be presented at the meeting of the local Parent-Teachers Association next Tuesday, January 17, at 10:30 a.m. in the music room of the public school it is announced by Mrs. E. E. Pulling, president of the organization.

The featured speaker of the morning is to be Nina B. Crigler, graduate of Columbia University, former staff member of the Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. She is at present Director of the Nutrition Service of the Los Angeles chapter of the Red Cross.

Script Circulation To Follow Here If Pasadena Approves

The plan for issuance of script in Pasadena, which the script advocates hope to bring before the people there at the polls in order to secure the needed support of the city, is modeled after the plan already working in Minneapolis, according to reports received from that city. If the Crown City votes in favor of the proposal it will be carried into this and other cities of the San Gabriel valley.

Every dollar issued in script, is this system as practiced by the cooperating unemployed in the east, is backed by 100 cents worth of necessary produce or goods in the association warehouse. The unemployed have put out script in values ranging from 10 cents to $10, and within a year about $3,000,000 worth will be in circulation it is estimated.

An employee paying wages in farm produce delivers the goods to the central warehouse where the worker collects script from the unemployed organization. With this he may either purchase the original goods or whatever necessity he has need of. At present 18,000 families operate a bank, warehouse, restaurant, factory and the like, and it is planned to open apartment houses to people who have been evicted from their homes as soon as possible.

Both the Russell Sage and the Rockefeller Foundations have studied the operation of the system introduced by Minneapolis and have pronounced it "an excellent approach to the problem of unemployment."

AMERICAN SPIRIT IS LAUDED IN ARCADIA THEATRE PICTURE

A dramatic story of the faith of the American people in trial is told in "The Conquerors," starring Ann Harding and Richard Dix, the super film that is on the screen of Dean's Arcadia Theatre tonight and tomorrow. Said to be Dix' greatest characterization, his Roger Standish is faithfully portrayed through young manhood and old age. Ann Harding also has a role that demands unusual skill in bridging the years.

On the same bill is Clara Bow's "Call Her Savage," in which the "It" girl displays much real ability as well as the usual lingerie. She is supported by Gilbert Roland and Monroe Owsley. Constance Bennett, in "Rockaby" is scheduled for the Arcadia for Sunday and Monday, January 15 and 16. This film pictures the glamorous and emotional life of the street gamin raised to the position of a sophisticated drawing room actress, and in the cast are such well liked stars as Joel McCrea, Paul Lukas, Jobyna Howland and Walter Pidgeon. Joan Bennett and Charles Farrell in "Wild Girl" complete the double bill.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday "Under Cover Man," with a splendid cast including George Raft, Nancy Carroll, Roscoe Karns, and Lew Cody, is presented. The picture is a thrilling one of a smooth crook who turns to the more lucrative position of stool pigeon.

Also playing is "That's My Boy" a football yarn with Dorothy Jordan and Richard Cromwell, and an aggregation of Trojan football players including Ernie Pinkert, Russ Saunders and Gaius Shaver.

COMMUNISTS AGAIN ACTIVE

The use of the United States mails by Communists in a statewide campaign of spreading false rumors against the banks of California is being investigated by U. S. Atty. S. W. McNabb, who asks the public to be on the alert for evidence which will assist in identifying the senders of these missives.

Those receiving such letters are requested by McNabb to turn them over to their local banker, handling the contents as little as possible so that finger-print clues may be obtained and these criminals brought to the bar of justice.

Ida Brown Will Be Sentenced Today

that he had repeatedly threatened her life and that her married life was a series of quarrels in which Brown became abusive at all hours of day and night.

Reuben and Mary Brown reluctantly told how they were awakened on the morning of the attack by their father's cries, of how Mrs. Brown had tried to swallow poison, and had shouted that she was glad that she had done it.

The prosecution for the second trial, to determine Mrs. Brown's sanity and responsibility for her act, was more closely contested. Defense Attorney Nathan O. Freedman attacked the "24-minute conviction," and argued that his client was in "an emotional storm" when she dashed the lie in Brown's face. Dr. Harry Soferenko, alienist for the defense, testified that she was in "a state of amnesia, and didn't know what she was doing."

Then for the second time Luis Brown made a dramatic appearance on the witness stand obviously hoping his testimony would prevent conviction of his wife. "For many months," he said, "my wife had been acting queer. She was forever accusing me of going out with other women. I would come home from work and she would say: 'I know where you've been—out with other women.'"

"Often I would be awakened in the middle of the night and turning on a light would see my wife dressing. She would tell me she was going out for a walk."

Four friends and neighbors of the Browns, Mrs. Cynthia Holmes, Mrs. Reba Resnick, Miss Pearl Goodman, and Mrs. L. Rosen, all testified that the defendant was known to be a woman of nervous temperament and erratic behavior.

But all defense testimony was directly contradicted by a written report by Dr. Edward H. Williams, noted alienist, and Dr. Martin Carter, who had thoroughly examined Mrs. Brown's mental state.

It was their belief, they said, that Mrs. Brown was sane and responsible. Deputy District Attorney Eugene Williams contended that deliberation and criminal intent in the planning of the crime had been shown beyond all question. He cited the fact that Mrs. Brown had shown remorse, and that she attempted to take her life immediately after the act and that a second attempt to kill herself had been frustrated after her release from the county jail.

Business Houses Here Rate High In Payment Of License

Six out of the 50 local business concerns whose license fees fell due on the first of the year were delinquent, city records show. This totaled $72, on licenses ranging from the standard $12 fee to the $50 limit. Of the twenty out-of-town concerns, such as laundry agencies, peddlers and the like, no one was delinquent. Other fees fall due on various dates during the year, as Sierra Madre issues only yearly licenses dating from the time taken out to the date a year from then. Other valley towns issue half and quarterly licenses, and date all their collections from January 1.

Ontario touched the ceiling with delinquencies amounting to $1,263 for the 96 business firms in that city.

Local Sport Paragraphs

BASKETBALL is in full swing all over the San Gabriel Valley and the foothill region and the local papers devote columns to the pastime. But all the basketball in Sierra Madre makes not a paragraph. Fred Lalone, who had ideas of a team several months ago, says there's nothing definite on tap.

—S—

Saw Dramon and Brain limbering up with a baseball of a week-end holiday. It's a long winter yet until Spring practice opens up, and a drought of sports in prospect hereabouts if someone doesn't cook up something pretty soon.

Several from here play on the strong PJC quintet tho, there being Les Miller, Tom Scalzo, Don Blanke, and others. The lower division team seems to be going for the coast prep league title, albeit no local lights are on it as far as we know.

Herb Munson, our racing correspondent, goes post-seasonally football and offers this all-Sierra Madre team. Les Miller, lg; Al Levinson, lt; Leroy McBurney, lg; Bert DeGroot, c (we'd put him at half ourselves); Sam Addis, rg; Hugh Addis, rt; Tom Scalzo, re; Bill Stanton Jr., q; Dud Shaw, lb; Jack Young, rh; Frank Foster f.

Fred Lalone is the 1933 president of the Santa Anita Rifle Club, Vincent Fleming having stepped out. Roy Shipway is now secretary, and Walling is treasurer. Lalone promises a slant on the sharpshooting ability of members soon.

Helped along by swell weather the tennis robin is almost wrapped up and ready to deliver. We hope nobody delivers our percentage along with the package, incidentally. But after the fireworks proper, everybody may challenge the guy just ahead of him, and if he don't get kicked back to where he was in the first place pronto, he may in turn go up another rung, etc.

Sunday, if Allah wills, the doubles matches will start. Pyle and Hero vs. Wayne Perry and Wolfe, Fuller and Fox vs. Graham and some one unknown as yet, and Clayton and Selwyn Myers vs. Smith and Wes Perry. Things start at 9 o'clock.

More doubles entries were originally expected, but somehow the dubs never saw to it to register, so all of the play in this division will be hi-brow stuff.

Louis Fuller some time ago spoke of having a tennis supper and general shindig at the conclusion of the tournament. Which will be a nice idea if enough people will ante up. Probably in the Clubhouse, if anywhere.

Here is the last minute word from the sultan of the courts, Louis Fuller: Singles matches must be polished off by the first of February. Saturday and Sunday play will be scheduled on the board as heretofore, but—whether OK or not, the matches will be defaulted 3-0, 3-0, if a player fails to show up. In other words the players must accommodate themselves to the schedule for a change, instead of the other way around.

In an effort to speed up things players are requested to get in touch with others with whom they have not played and arrange for mid-week matches. By notifying Fuller or Bill Pyle they may secure balls for such goes.

Upon completion of the robin a challenge sheet will be posted in the park courts. All local players will be eligible, but only those who have played through the tournament will be ranked in the final dope.

A Southern California racing association for roadsters such as Al and Wayne both have here is being planned, rumor hath. And they do say that Al will be president of same. The idea is that ultimately a track will be built and big things will be popping.

—S—

Hosses' hooves clicked off the paved street Sunday morning, being the metaphorical claxon call that woke us up and made us wonder as to possibility of polo?

—S—

Doc Woehler let off steam anent the danger in golf the other day. Seems that down at the San Gabriel Country Club everybody has golf insurance. The Doc says that one fellow was knocked cuckoo by a stray ball, that he (Doc) himself was laid a bit low by one of his own shots that ricocheted from a tree and nearly broke a bone. We guess it near did from his description, and besides, Doc is big and husky enough to bat 'em out thataway.

Hot Lead

By Norman Jensen
COMMANDER Ray Caukin and Junior Past Commander Art Embree headed a group of Legionnaires who attended a lecture on Technocracy last Friday night. A report of this lecture at next Monday night's meeting should be an attraction for everyone to be present who wants to learn more about this subject that everyone is talking about and that so few really understand.

At the January 3rd meeting the findings of a committee which was named to attempt the holding of a horse show in Sierra Madre for the benefit of the Boy Scout program here was presented to those present. It was decided that the report presented certain difficulties which made it impracticable to offer the show at the present time and a popular vote postponed the project indefinitely.

Now, if we could find out what there is about Colonel Hersey's squabs that make our sick comrades feel so much better after eating one of them it might be a good idea to raise a few extra birds for distribution. Perhaps we can persuade Colonel Hersey to give us the prescription. Anyway, we are very grateful for the services rendered by our comrade in visiting the sick and so

P.T.A. Is Grateful To Community For Generous Support

The P.T.A. wishes to thank the community and express its appreciation for the whole-hearted support given the organization and its activities during 1932, and trust that it may enjoy the same generous support in 1933.

A board meeting will be held in the school on Tuesday, January 17 at 10:30 a.m. The P.T.A. meeting will be on Wednesday, January 18, at 2:30 p.m. in the music room.

This month there is to be a health program and we will have an interesting speaker. The meeting will be open to the public. It is hoped that as many members as possible will attend as we wish to have their opinion on the subject of the Girl Scouts, or the Camp Fire Girls.

The little ones will be taken care of during the meeting. The Mother's Chorus has begun again and all who are interested in singing are invited to attend a meeting on Friday at 10 a.m. in the music room of the school. This is no for P.T.A. members only—everyone is welcome.

generously contributing to their comfort.

Commander Ray and Mrs. Caukin were guests at the Sunday morning breakfast of the Foothill Bridge and Breakfast Club served in Bailey Canyon on Sunday. A big smile indicated that the Commander enjoyed himself.

Our Department of California Commander Warren H. Atherton and Adjutant James K. Frisk recently sent out postal cards to all delinquent Legionnaires stressing the importance of renewing their membership for 1933. If the appeal made on the back of this card don't jar the "old faithful" membership into action and bring in the delinquents then nothing less drastic than a stick of dynamite will be sufficient.

Members who are absent from meetings are missing many exciting and interesting activities. For example, ice cream, cake and good coffee.

Next Monday's Slogan—Attend Legion Meeting, City Hall, 8 p.m. "Carry On."

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

THURSDAY'S meeting was not called for fun, as a lot of us found out. We were hardly seated at "Headquarters" when the Chief ordered all hands out and across the street to the Toy Shop. There was so much junk left there by the toy makers, that it is hard to understand how the place held three truck loads of toys and so much junk. There were broken wheels, parts of bicycles, doll heads without eyes or nose, parts of games and what not. The chief said we had to get that stuff out of the building and that was that. For about an hour the fellows could be seen carrying loads from the old shop. That is, all but four, who were discovered in the "Southwest Corner." And when they were found, was there trouble? I'm asking.

All during the evening the "Southwest Corner" aggregation was disturbed by the business of the meeting held by the other firemen—and a few side remarks. Something will have to be done about this. Already the Southerners have lost a number of members on account of the annoying bystanders.

The Chief and Mrs. Chief made a business trip up North on his day off last week and brought each of the boys a bunch of cotton branches. Before this some of us thought cotton grew on rabbit's tails.

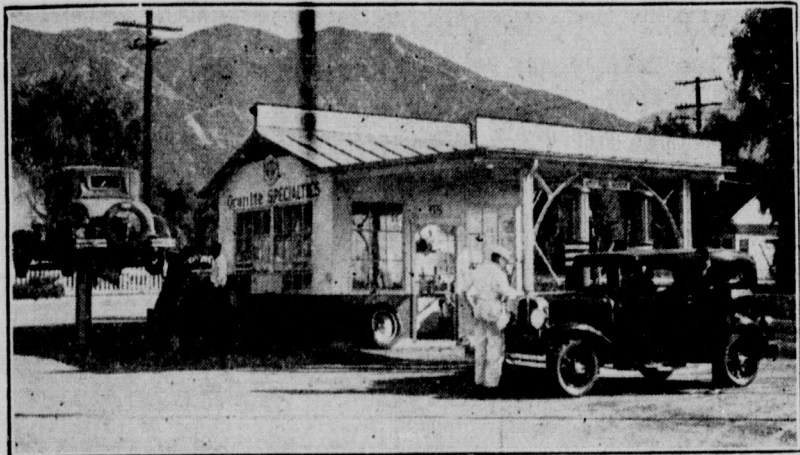

We devoted most of Thursday's meeting to planning for the Wistaria Fete. As a result the vine will be looked after by an expert, and this with the planting of various varieties of flowers about the grounds, the place should be made more attractive than ever before. It was definitely decided to eliminate the "hot dog" stands that so distracted from the real beauty of the grounds last year. And it might be added that the parking lot fellows may have to drink water, as the old familiar pop stand that occupied such a conspicuous corner in the past, will also be missing. In all, it looks as tho' there will be quite a cut in expenditures. Naturally, the Fire Department as the operators, are anxious to stay out of the red, but on the other hand it is desirable that the Fete retain its reputation as a thing of beauty. Altho' we realize that much could be done in the line of a general "street fair," not one of the men of the department favors such an adventure to the detriment of the beauty of the Fete and the idea of a "fair" was vigorously and unanimously vetoed.

FRUITS FOR HOME ORCHARD
By Jessie Ward Russell
Landscape Gardener

LAST WEEK we talked of avocado and citrus trees for the home orchard. Today we will take up some other sub-tropical fruits that would add variety to the family table.

The Cheromoya or custard apple is a delicious fruit and liked by all. The fruit is about the size of a large peach but rough on the outside. The inside flesh is smooth, sweet and creamy, with a flavor suggestive of strawberries and pineapples. The tree is medium sized and bushy.

The Sapote or Mexican peach is liked by many for its odd bitter-sweet flavor. It grows into a tall, leggy tree with foliage that resembles the walnut. The fruit is almost the size of a peach.

The Feijoa or Pineapple Guava and the yellow and red Strawberry Guavas take up very little room in the garden and can be used as hedge plants where a hedge that is both ornamental and useful is desired. The fruit makes really delicious jelly. The guava plants must have plenty of water or the fruit will drop. The Passion Fruit is produced on a rapid growing vine. The fruit is dull purple in color and about the size of a small hen's egg. It has become popular for flavoring for ice creams and candies. Preserved, its flavor resembles apricots.

The fruiting Bananas, which has become very popular and thrives nicely in Sierra Madre, is interesting to grow in one's yard although I must say the flavor of most of the fruit grown by local enthusiasts is not equal to that of the bananas you buy in the markets.

The plants should be grown in a sheltered location screened from severe winds and given lots of water.

RUTH CHATTERTON IN ENTIRELY NEW ROLE AT TOWER THEATRE

The long step from the drawing-room to the Barbary Coast of the old San Francisco gives to the screen an entirely new Ruth Chatterton, in her latest picture, "Frisco Jenny," which opens at the Tower Theatre in Pasadena tomorrow.

Coming as an interesting departure from her long series of portrayals of the rich, charming and cultured woman of high society, the title role of "Frisco Jenny" affords the star a chance for a new characterization. No longer does she sip tea and bandy smart repartee with the intellectuals.

"Frisco Jenny" was a historical character during and after the earthquake period. She was the daughter of a saloon keeper and a power in the underworld. Ruth Chatterton, glad of the opportunity to bring to the screen so picturesque a character, dons the plumed hats, ginger-breaded costumes and plays her for all she is worth.

Donald Cook, James Murray and Louis Calhern appear opposite Miss Chatterton in a triangle of prominent parts, directed by William A. Wellman.

Showing for the final times tonight is Edward G. Robinson in his greatest picture "Silver Dollar" with Bebe Daniels and Aline MacMahon.

Important Work Of Biographers Added To Library's List

Probably one of the most important biographers of our times has lately contributed a book on the life of a little known woman who was the wife of America's greatest figure. This is Carl Sandburg's "Mary Lincoln," which has just been added to the Sierra Madre public library shelves. Two other biographies that may now be borrowed are "Napoleon," by Belloc, and Smertenko's "Alexander Hamilton." Still another two volumes of a biographical trend acquired by the local library in December show the general reader interest in this type of book. The latter two are Campbell's "Sarah, Duches of Marlborough," and "Wife of Rossetti" by Hunt.

Twenty three new patrons were registered by librarian Eva Moore during the last month of 1932, and the total monthly circulation was 4,727, which is a 12 per cent gain over the figures for December of the previous year.

Here is a list of the new books obtainable to registered borrowers from the library shelves:

Fiction—"Tall Ladder" by Burt; "Tragedy of X," Ross; "House Under Water," Young; "Luxury Liner," Kaus; "Peter Ashley," Heyward; "Long Time Ago," Kennedy; "Young Woman of 1914," Zweig; "Patch of Blue," Hill; "Mutiny on the Bounty," Nordoff; "Unforgotten," Krassnoff.

Non-fiction—"Napoleon," Belloc; "Forty Years for Labrador," Grenfell; "Alexander Hamilton," Smertenko; "Mary Lincoln," Sandburg; "Fall of the Inca Empire," Means; "Fighting Business Depressions," Babson; "How to Develop Your Personality," Shellow; "Life Begins at Forty," Pitkin; "Dinner at Eight," Kaufmann; "Flying Carpet," Haliburton; "Guide Through Wild Chaos," Cole; "Wife of Rossetti," Hunt; "Art of Being a Woman," Knopf; "Sarah, Duches of Marlborough," Campbell.

BOOKINGS ASSURE OUTSTANDING WEEK AT LYRIC THEATRE

Every effort has been made to make the screen program at the Lyric Theatre, in Monrovia, for the coming week an outstanding one.

Douglas Fairbank's latest picture, "Mr. Robinson Crusoe" is playing at the Lyric Theatre this Friday and Saturday, and local fans have their first opportunity of seeing the adventurous star in a modern version of the famed Defoe character, a character destined to take a high place with the gallery already composed of "Robin Hood," "Don Q." and the "Three Musketeers." Fairbanks made the picture in its entirety in the South Seas.

On the same program Jackie Cooper makes his latest appearance in "Divorce in the Family," a picture funnier than "Skippy" and more dramatic than "The Champ."

"The Devil Is Driving," the film which starts Sunday at the Lyric for a three-day run, is a finely constructed melodrama which fully lives up to its unusual title and to the high quality of its cast.

Warren William and Lili Damita have been paired for the first time in the leading roles in the picture "The Match King," which is playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in conjunction with "The Devil Is Driving."

A big kiddies Junior Matinee will be screened this Saturday afternoon.

Starting Sunday the new prices will go into effect at the Lyric Theatre—balcony seats at 25c and general admission including loges 35c. The Saturday and Sunday matinee prices will be 25c for all seats.

ILLINOISANS TO PICNIC

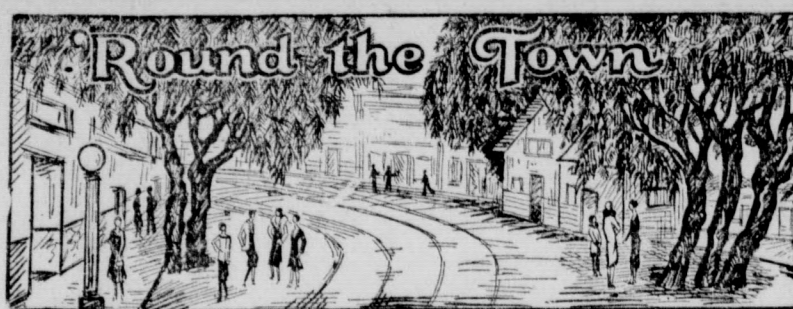

The Illinoisans of Southern California are opening their picnic season for 1933 with a reunion, all day, Saturday, January 21st, in Sycamore Grove Park. President Henry J. Brubaker will preside at the brief program.

To show how history repeats itself: in olden times the women worked at home and the men hunted. It's the same nowadays, excepting that the men are hunting jobs.

Ample Supply Of Garments Is Provided

New Auxiliary Mends And Laundering Clothes For The City's Needy

By Dorothy Shetler

According to Mrs. Agnes Tyree, Sierra Madre nows credit for establishing the first Auxiliary to the Co-Operative Relief Association. Although many other communities had formed associations before the local organization, Sierra Madre women were the first to form a subsidiary unit, to aid the main organization in every way possible.

Mrs. Tyree says the ladies are going into the work determined to make a very worth-while and husky unit for the benefit of everyone that is in need. Among other things, the Auxiliary prepares lunches for the men that are sent out by the association, to help in the raising or harvesting of crops.

The C. R. A. Auxiliary also launders and mends all clothing and materials donated. A new branch of sewing is to be taken up, that of remodeling millinery. Felt hats in all stages of collapse will be cleaned and blocked into the latest styles.

The folks in town that are in need of warm comforts and quilts can obtain the same by going down to the office at 24 Central avenue, and help in the making.

Those in need of garments and shoes can have them, without any embarrassing questions. The Auxiliary was formed for the purpose of helping, and those in difficulties are invited to select the articles they can use.

Mrs. Tyree says the townspeople have been very kind in their response for donations, and due to thoughtfulness of so many people in Sierra, the store room is amply provided with a great many useful articles.

A. L. A. Activities

By Dorothy Shetler

PRESIDENT Maybelle Barker and Leila Embree journeyed afar to the 18th District Sewing Circle, held at the Legion headquarters, Alhambra, last Wednesday. Old clothing was repaired, nine quilts made for needy veteran families staying up in the Canyon back of Azusa. There are about 50 families, with nothing at all to go on with, and this collection taken to them, was in the nature of a windfall. Each unit was represented by seamstresses.

Membership Chairman Lucile Pickett, and family motored over to the Hospital at Compton to see Comrade Gertrude Humphreys. Mrs. Humphreys had planned on coming home and then her improvement was retarded by the flu. Her condition is much improved, so she is making her plans anew to soon come home.

Mrs. Amelia Rothermel is

"Buy American" Idea Is Boosted By Civil War Veterans' Daughters At Colorful Installation Ceremony

The entire staff of 19 officers of the Lucretia Garfield Tent of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, conducted the installation ceremony of the local Louise Severance Tent No. 65 on Friday afternoon at the Woman's club house. Mrs. Mary W. Wall, president-elect of the installing tent, presented the local tent with 45 American Creed cards. Out of respect to the memory of Calvin Coolidge the tent maintained silence for several minutes.

Miss Laura E. Cadmus, accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle Hill, sang "A Mother's Prayer," the words of which were written by Mrs. E. C. Polsue, mother of Mrs. Mary A. Wammock, who was installed as president, to the tune of "Lead Me Gently Home Father," by W.

among us again. But not to stay, much to our chagrin. She and Mr. Rothermel are visiting with the Wilhelmis, on Adams street. They have taken a long motor tour, and Comrade Rothermel is rapidly regaining his health. Mrs. Rothermel's eyes are as sparkly as ever, and we very cordially dislike to see such a cheery "feller" go back to Fresno.

Louise Roe, Lucile Pickett, and Maibelle Barker represented the A.L.A. at the funeral services held for Mrs. Vinary Johnson, mother of Mrs. Hallie Hogan.

The girls of the Junior A.L.A. met in the Legion Dugout on Saturday afternoon. They had their usual interesting meeting and social time. President Marjorie Stinman announces that the Juniors will from now on meet every first and third Saturdays. The next meeting will be at her home at 70 Esperanza avenue.

Maybelle Barker, Lucile Pickett, Blanche Buie and Lovetta Pratt attended the installation ceremony of the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Louise Severance Tent 65, last Friday. Two members of the A.L.A. took office in the D.U.V. at the installation. They were Americanism Chairman Augusta Coats and Lena High. Lovetta Pratt gave a reading, and her readings are always exceptionally well done.

Bertha Irvine is disporting (?) a pair of crutches. She sez the next time the neighborhood dogs have a difference of opinion, she will let them fight it out.

January is Legislative Month and there are many important questions to be decided. The reduction of compensation to disabled World War Veterans under the guise of government economy will draw determined opposition from the women of the American Legion Auxiliary. The Auxiliary will give active support to the stand of the American Legion against proposed Federal economies aimed at the disabled veterans.

The Auxiliary is confident that thousands of women—when they understand the injustice that may be done to the veterans, will heed the call and enroll in the A.L.A. Every woman that joins the Auxiliary now gives the organization just that much more power in its endeavors for the welfare of the disabled men.

L. Thompson. Another selection rendered by Miss Cadmus was "Tenting Tonight." "Battle Hymn of the Republic" was sung by Francis Eakman. Mr. Eakman was accompanied by Mrs. Dunn of Pasadena. Mrs. Nellie Noble of Pasadena, installing officer and past State president, was presented with a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Lovetta Hicks Pratt read a poem by Mrs. Polsue entitled "The Ranks are Growing Thin."

Mrs. Mary A. Wammock was showered with dozens of bouquets of flowers at the ceremony, which installed her as president of the tent. She takes the chair of Mrs. Etta M. Wright, to whom a number of bouquets were presented. The bouquets carried by the outgoing officers were given to the installing officers.

Letters are being sent to radio stations KNX and KFAC, to include the local tent in the organizations sponsoring the "Buy American" plan. The slogan "Buy American" was adopted several months ago by the tent.

Two Civil War veterans were present at the installation, E. J. Webster, member of the local tent and Sierra Madre resident, and Charles H. Spencer, of West Los Angeles. Guests were present from Nevada, West Los Angeles, Los Angeles, Pasadena and Orange.

The following officers were installed for the coming year: Mrs. Wammock, president; Mrs. Mary Dickson, senior vice-president; Mrs. Lenita Klunk, junior vice-president; Mrs. Etta M. Wright, chaplain; Mrs. Augusta Coats, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Mattie Cuddy, treasurer; Mrs. Ethel Pendergast, council member No. 1; Mrs. Lena High, council member No. 2; Mrs. Gretchen Newberry, council member No. 3; Mrs. Vera Stewart, secretary and press correspondent; Mrs. Gretchen Newberry, guide; Mrs. Lauber, guard; Mrs. Florence Ware, assistant guard; Mrs. Anna Griebner, musician; Mrs. Mabel Biedler, color bearer No. 1; Mrs. Agnes Leighton, color bearer No. 2; Mrs. Lena High, color bearer No. 3, and Mrs. Mary Tuggle, color bearer No. 4.

Friendship Club Offers Novel Stunt

Snowball Contest Features Organizations First Meeting Of The New Year

A "snowball" contest was one of the novel features of the social hour following the regular business meeting last Monday evening when the Friendship club held its first meeting of '33.

Hostesses for the affair were Mesdames W. O. Preston, John Colbert, Jessie Dunning and Harriet Buckingham. Hostesses for the next meeting as announced by the president, Mrs. Ben Stinman, will be Mrs. Embree, Mrs. Arthur Evans, Mrs. Hibbs and Miss Southers.

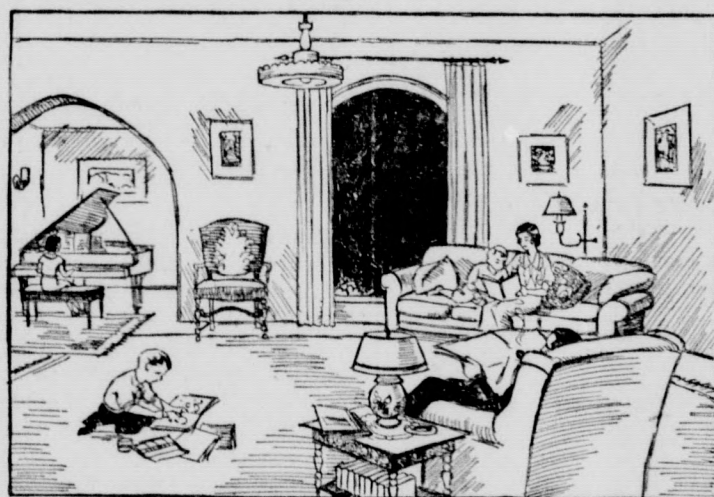

The contest for new members, captained by Mrs. Thomas M. Schwartz and Miss Stinman, has been extended for another month. Several attractive social affairs are being planned among which are the St. Patrick's Day party when husbands will be guests of members.

There will be an all day sewing meeting today for the purpose of completing some unfinished welfare work. Members and friends are invited to bring needle, thread and scissors. Mrs. Osterhout, chairman of welfare work, will be in charge of the sewing. Bring your luncheon sandwiches; a hot drink will be served by the hostess, Mrs. Carl A. Greene, at her home, 549 West Montecito avenue.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY WITH WINTER SPORTS

A group of local folks celebrated the birthday of Rudolph R. Hartman with winter sports in the snow at Ice House Canyon on Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Reavis and son, Clay Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Schwartz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Evans and family, Mr. and Mrs. Warren O. Preston and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Adwell and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph R. Hartman and family.

He—Why do you call them clock stockings? I don't see any hands on them.
She—No, and there aren't supposed to be any hands on them, either!

Now...when home means so much more...let there be light

WE ARE HOME more now-a-days. Evenings are longer; we go out less...home has regained its place as a popular family rendezvous.

Be sure your home is flooded with cheerful, health-giving light. Make your home bright with light and it will be inviting. Use an abundance of light, intelligently, to save your children's eyes...to insure ease and comfort to every occupant and guest. Use plenty of economical light for safety's sake...to avoid the menace of shadowed stairways and dark halls. Use light for protection when away from home, for a lamp left burning is the best of burglary insurance.

Our lighting engineers will gladly help you get the best from light, and there's hardly anything for which you pay so little that gives you so much.

Woman's Club Notes...

"There is a throne waiting for every man, who has the will to take it— with this in mind Mussolini has ruled Italy with indomitable fearlessness. It has been this slogan of the iron ruler that has lifted the people of Italy from starvation, indolence and revolution."

This message was brought to the Sierra Madre Woman's Club at its meeting on Wednesday morning by Alexander Bevani, in his lecture, "Italy Before and After Mussolini." Mr. Bevani, English by birth, has spent the greater part of his life in Italy. He went there in 1889, when the country was in a state of turmoil. "Money was not safe in banks; there was no patriotism; the people failed to pull together and were leaving the country in large numbers to seek more favorable conditions." Mr. Bevani told. "To me the first year I resided there, Italy was a beautiful, lazy country, where with an income from England I could live princely and where Englishmen and Americans marvelled at the cheap living conditions.

"It was not until I had begun to learn the language and came more in contact with the Italians that I realized that Italy was beautiful only to those with the money power; that the peasants lived on little more than sour black bread and wine.

"Mussolini, son of a blacksmith, a red exile before the World War, who realized during his service in the war the great need of a firm ruler—one who would lift the country rather than drag it down—began his fight, not with guns, but with castor oil and razor. These he administered to all soap box rebels. He found that after a dose of castor oil and a closely cropped haircut the offender was in a different frame of mind. With thousands of followers he went to the king at Rome and declared himself the ruler.

"Under Mussolini everyone works. Government institutions are maintained for the aged and those who cannot work. Mussolini rules rigidly but always with the welfare of his people in mind.

A card party to be given by the Ways and Means committee of the club on Thursday evening, January 26, was announced by Miss Edna R. Green, president.

The resignation of Mrs. Fletcher H. White, vice-president, was announced.

Following luncheon a short impromptu talk on "New Zealand" was given by Mrs. E. D. Burbank. Mrs. Tedford, new member of the club, told of experiences during her many years as a welfare worker in Orange County.

Six new members were introduced at the luncheon table: Mrs. M. R. Englander, Mrs. Cosper, Mrs. H. B. Ayers, Mrs. E. G. Howard, Mrs. Tedford and Mrs. F. M. Clatworthy.

Miss Cec Martin, distinguished singer who is about to leave for a trip to Italy, was among the guests.
